

London, 29 February 2008

Dear Sir or Madam,

My name is, I am a Portuguese Science teacher and I am trying to obtain the qualified teacher status in England. As referred in the EC1 application form, I am sending you attached copies of the required documents and translations of:

- 1. Degree certificate
- 2. Teacher training qualification certificate (does not exist in Portugal)
- 3. Proof of Nationality
- 4. Change of name (not necessary in my case)

The degree certificate attached is not a transcript of my degree but a proper certificate awarded by my University (headings certificate and certidão in the Portuguese version).

I would like to refer that in Portugal a teacher does not have a teacher certificate so this was not included. The teacher certification is obtained with a specific 5 years degree for teaching (Licenciado, equivalent to Bsc + MEd, and 299.5 ECTS) so the documents referred in points 1 and 2 overlap and are only the ones that I provided. The last year of this degree is done mainly at schools, as you can see in the attached certificate (Pedagogical traineeship/Estágio Pedagógico).

My degree gives teacher qualification in the subjects of the portuguese national curriculum of Natural Sciences, Biology, Geology and "Biology and Geology" for the years 7 to 12 (in Eurydice/Eurybase – same in the UK for KS3 and 4 + post compulsory education until the equivalent of year 12, inclusive, retrieved from http://www.eurydice.org/ressources/eurydice/eurybase/pdf/0 integral/PT EN.pdf - ISCED 2 + ISCED 3).

Best regards,
